“Research with Probate Records”

on Saturday, September 22, 2012

from 10:00AM to 12:00PM

with Nora Galvin

at the Stamford Historical Society

1508 High Ridge Road, Stamford, CT

Probate records (information about what a deceased person owned and who inherited it) can be valuable in identifying unknown family members or proving relationships. They also give us information about lifestyles through the inventory of the estate. This lecture explains basic probate terminology and explains the probate process.

Nora Galvin is a professional genealogist who specializes in Connecticut and New York. A descendant of nine immigrants from eight counties in Ireland, she also specializes in Irish research and research at the Connecticut State Library.

Registration begins at 10:00 AM, lecture kicks off at 10:30 AM.
