FREE Genealogy Lecture

“Finding Ancestors in Passenger Lists and Naturalization Records”

with Paul Keroack

on Saturday, March 23, 2013

from 10:00AM to 12:00PM

at the Danbury Library

170 Main Street, Danbury, CT

Records of immigrant ancestors from their arrival to citizenship are more accessible than ever. An overview of both types of records from 1820-1940 and tips on how to find and use them.

Paul Keroack, a resident of Stratford, is retired from the Norwalk Public Library, where he still works on a substitute basis as a reference and local history librarian. In addition to his Norwalk interests, Paul has researched his French-Canadian and Irish ancestry for over thirty years and belongs to several genealogical and historical societies, frequently writing for their publications.

Registration begins at 10:00 AM with the lecture kicking off at 10:30 AM.
